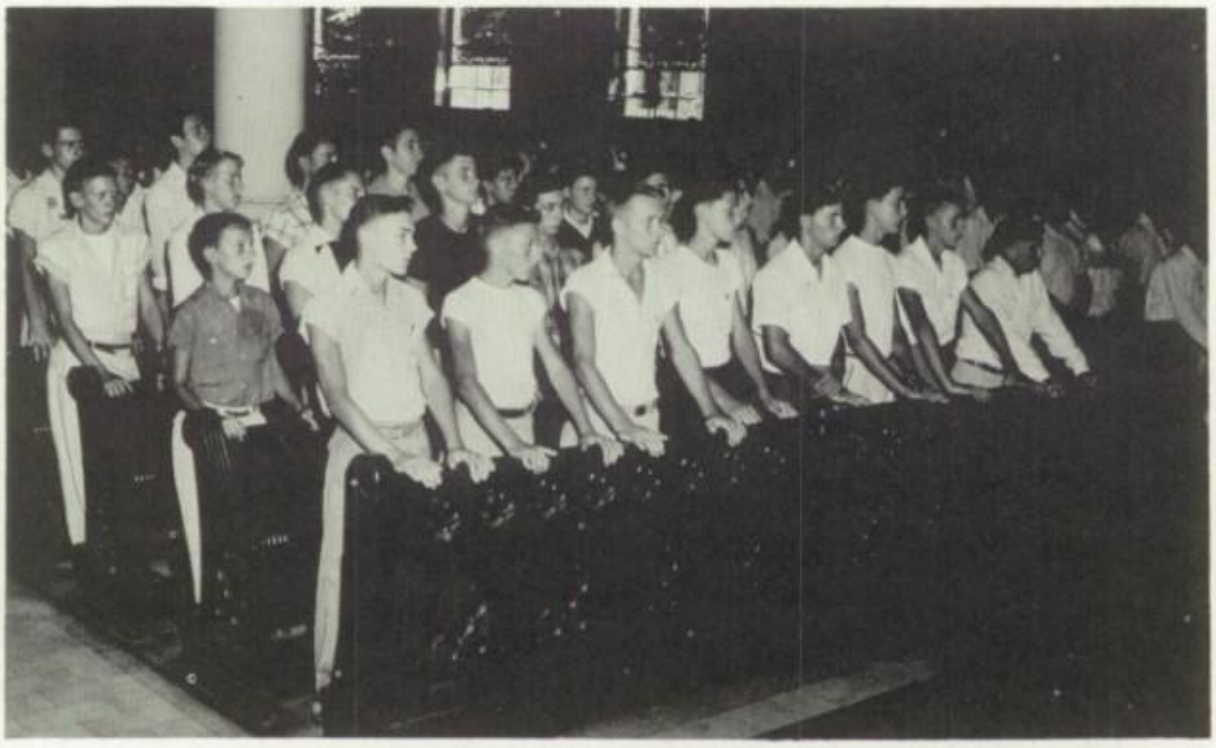
ACTIVITIES

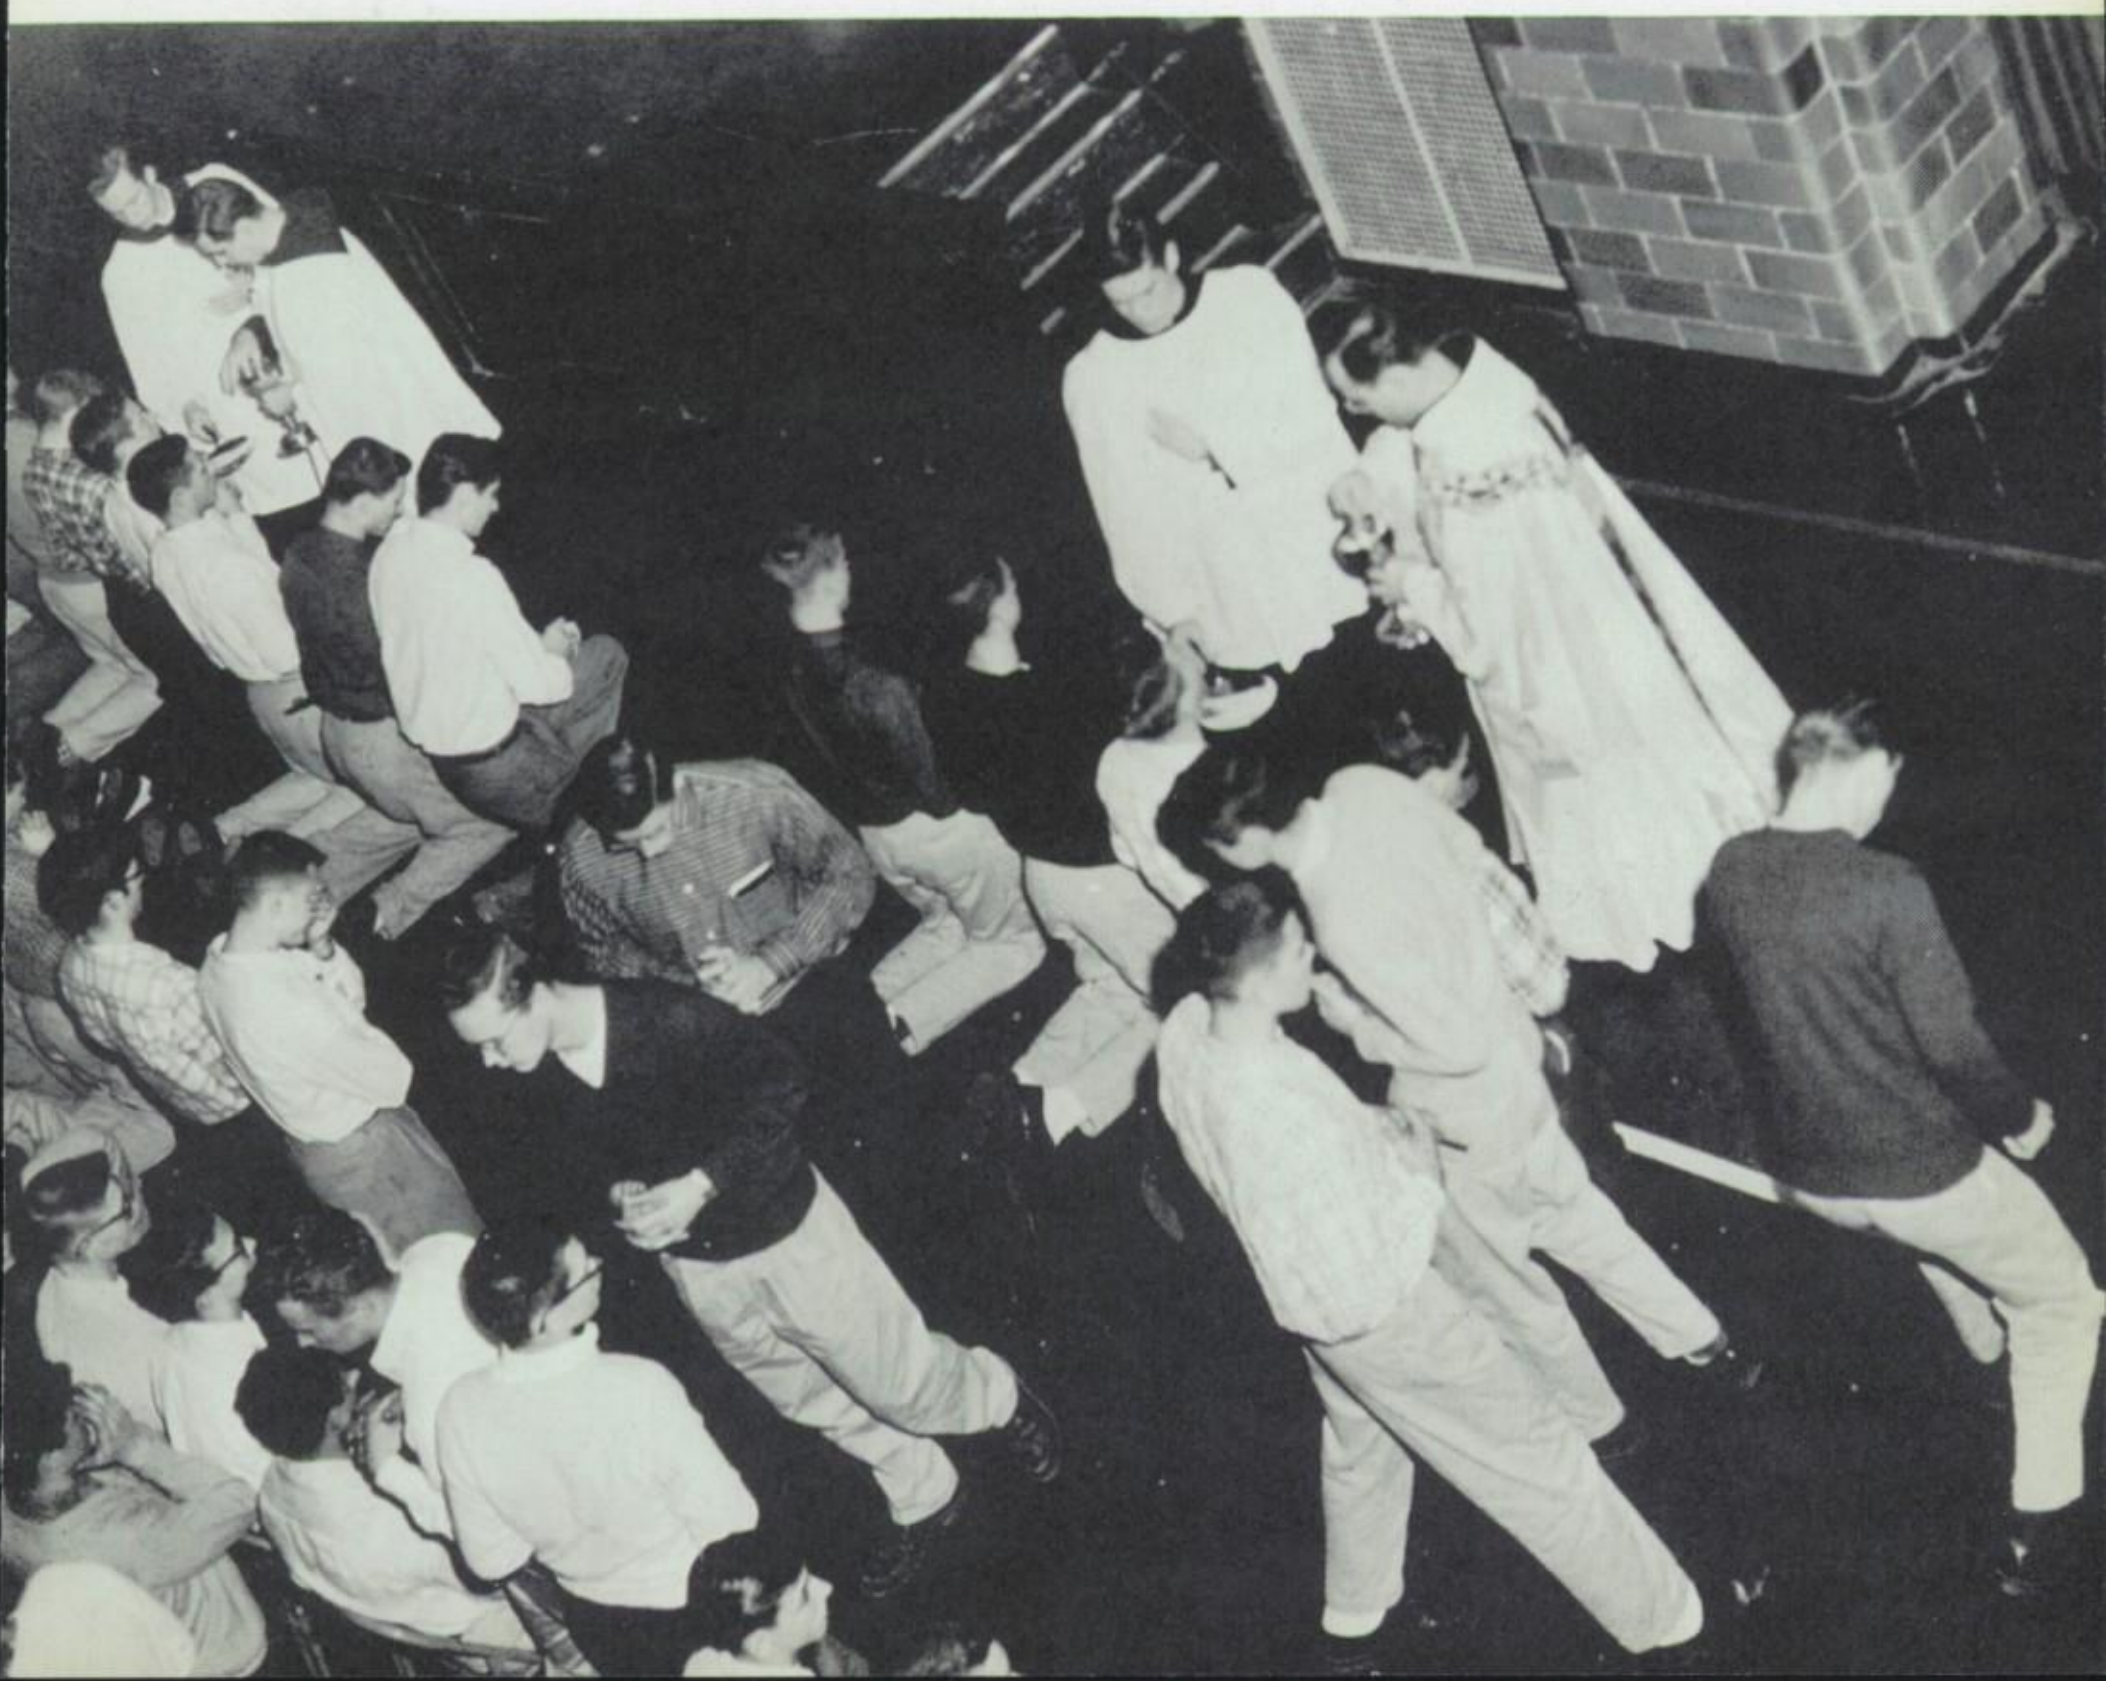
A Solemn High Mass in St. Clement Church officially opened the scholastic year of 1955-56. Above, the students file out from Church and head for the classroom.



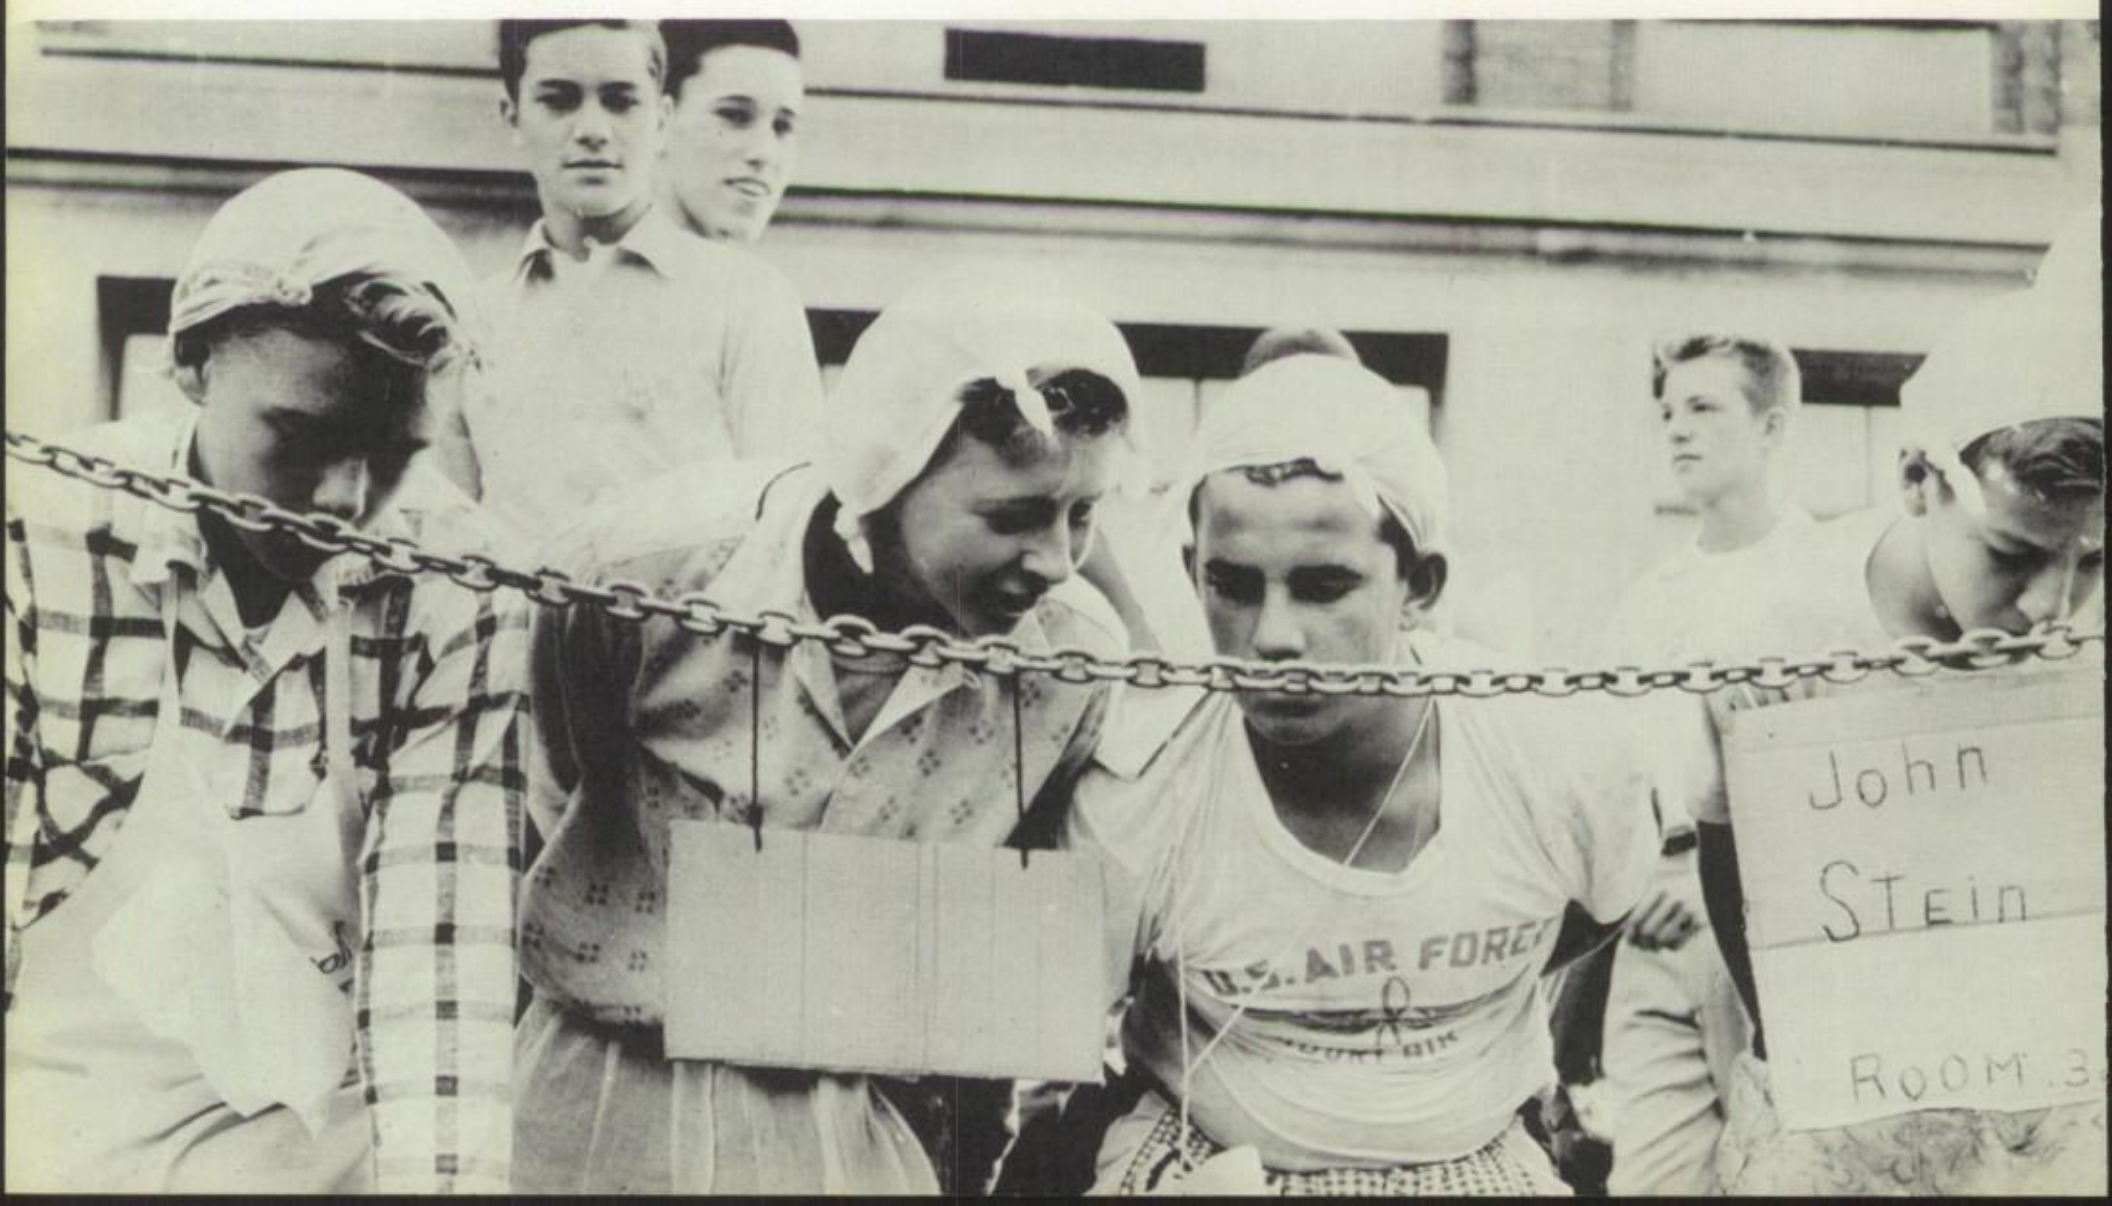
Summer tans are much in evidence as the students rise and listen to the singing of the Gospel.

Fr. Stanley, Religious Director, blesses the various rooms of the building on the Feast of Epiphany. Servers are: C. Vonder-Meulen, J. Rasfeld, A. Heimert, J. Gehring.

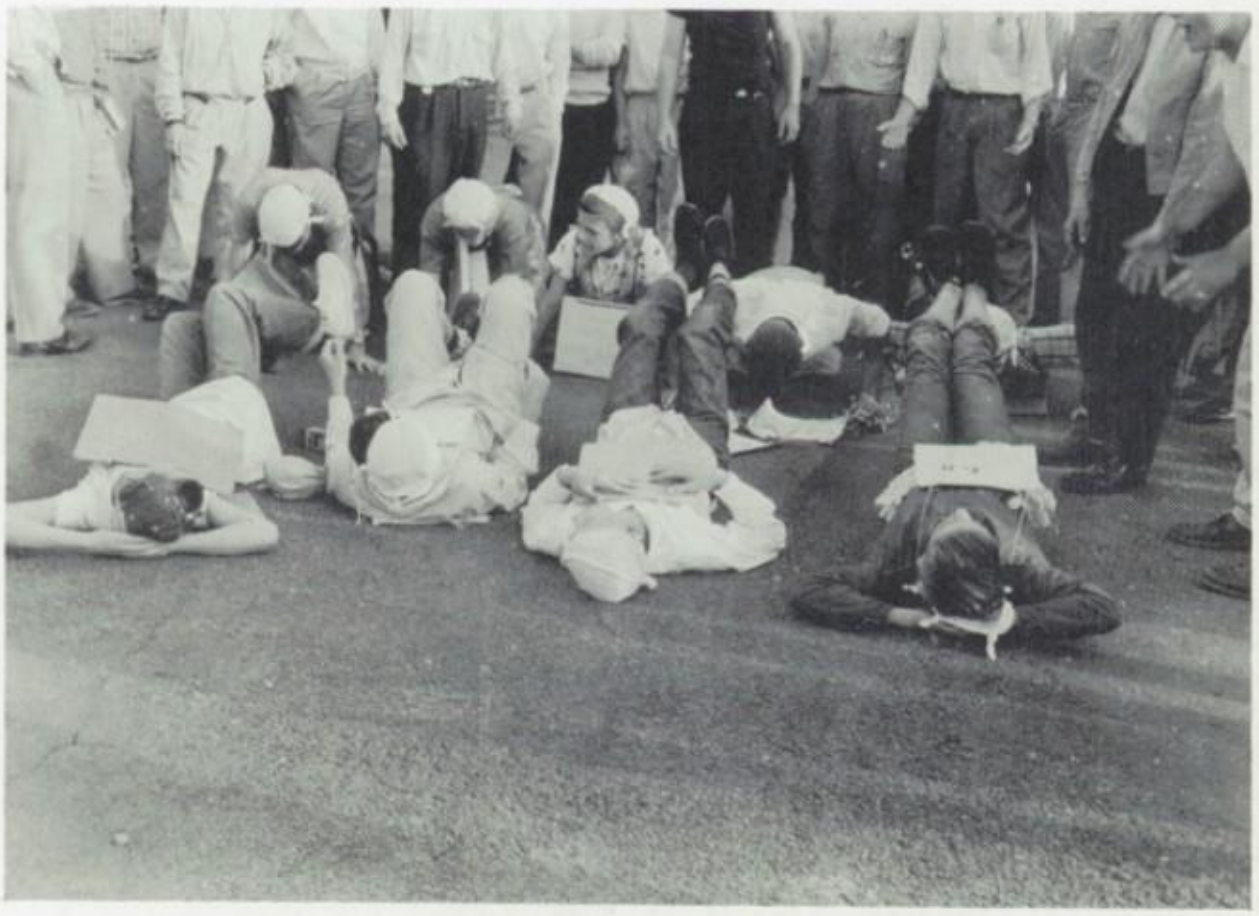
Above, left: Fr. Cronan offered the First Friday Masses in the school auditorium. Right: Fr. Valens Waldschmidt says Mass during the annual retreat which he conducted this year. He is served by A. Heimert and C. Vonder Meulen.



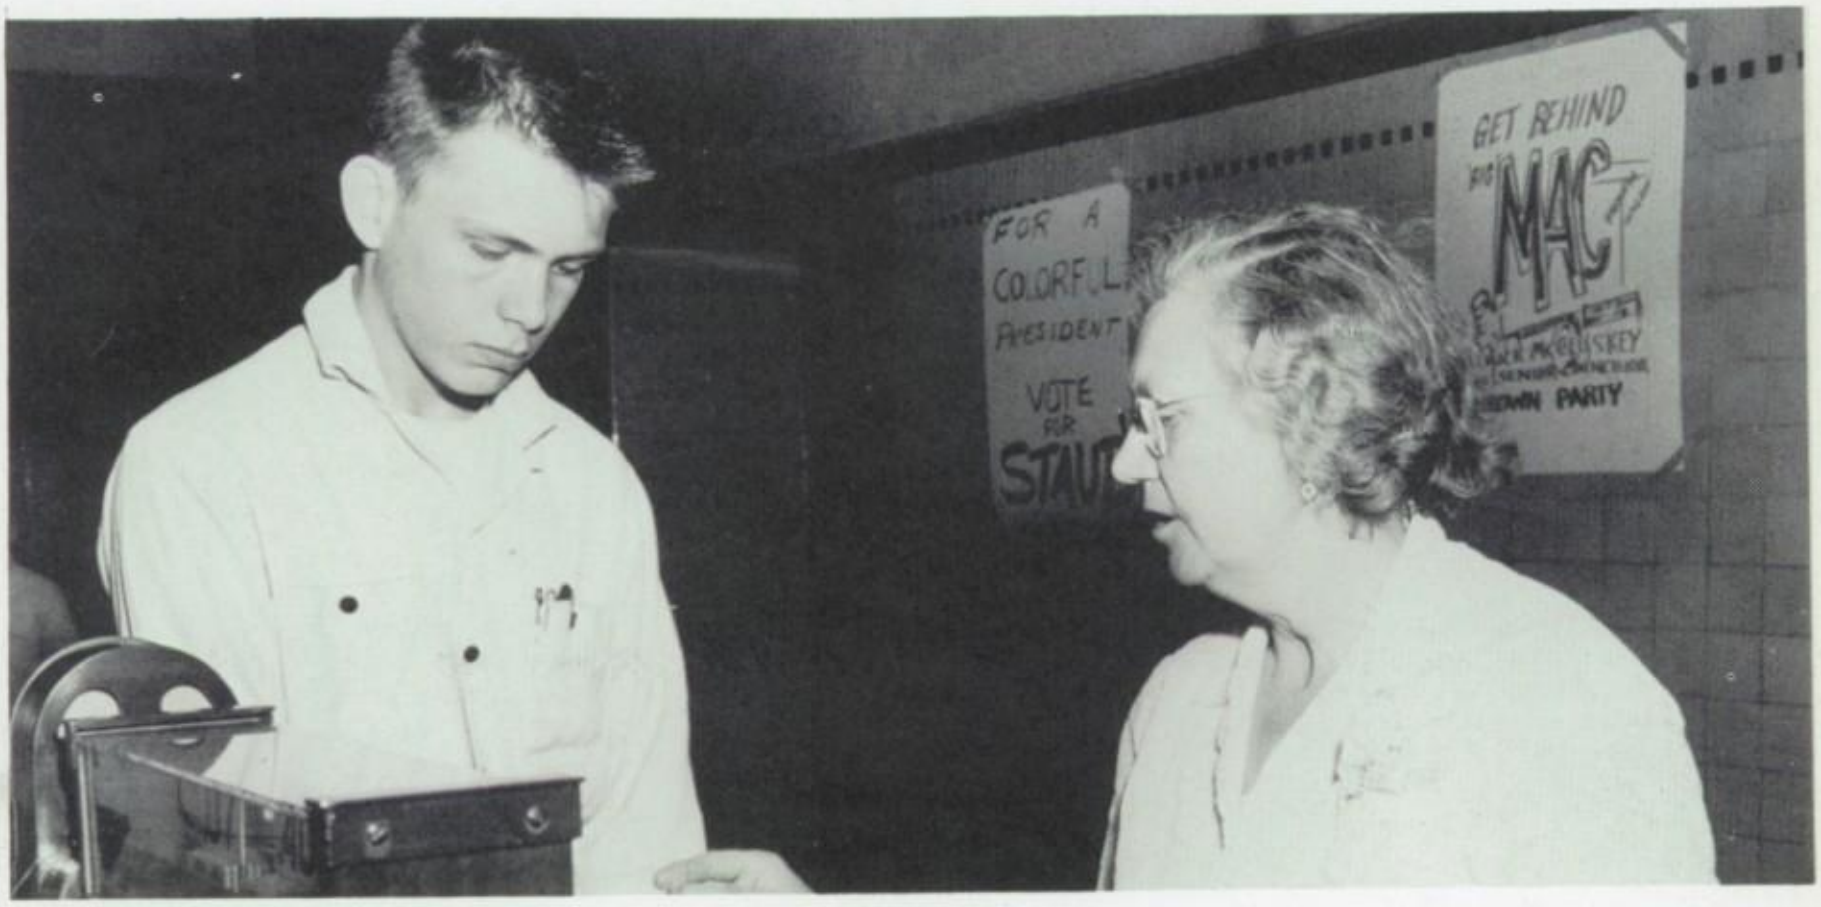
During Freshman Week, September 28, 29, and 30, the lowly freshmen put aside their pride and donned aprons and handkerchief caps as special insignia of their rank. The seniors tried to mold the Frosh into true men of Bacon by such "character-builders" as eating baby food, pushing pennies, and the like.



Fr. Cronan conducts the band in the playing of the "Star-Spangled Banner." This marked the end of morning festivities each day of Freshman Week.



Kangaroo Court climaxed the initiation capers of Freshman Week. Offenders were brought to "justice;" and the Seniors willingly meted out such punishments as beer shampoos, walking the (tomato-covered) plank, and the like.



By all odds the favorite period of the day, lunch-time appears to be very serious business in these shots. Some smiles are in evidence below, however, as the right combination of food is found.

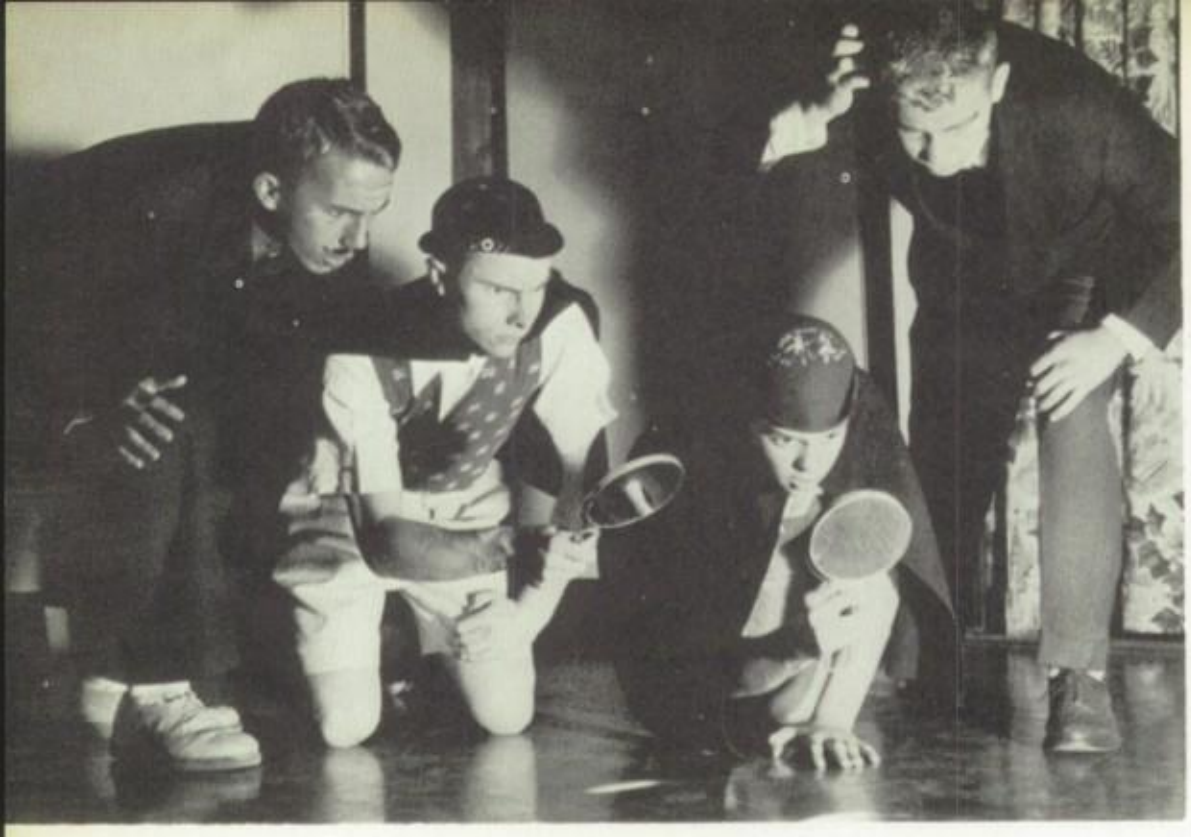
The most recent addition to the Roger Bacon campus is a beautiful grotto of "Our Lady of Grace." The idea of the grotto was conceived by Mr. Bacevich; the construction, under his direction, was done by members of the Varsity Club and the Dad's Club. Dedication ceremonies were held Sunday, September 18.

Left: Monsignor Cletus A. Miller, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, officiated at the dedication, assisted by Fr. Andrew.

The coaches, Robert Irvin, John Gaughan, and Bron Bacevich, listen to the sermon, preached by Fr. Paschal.

Roger Bacon's new stadium was dedicated on Sunday afternoon, October 23, prior to the game with Elder. Above, the Comrades' Post of the American Legion presented the flag and provided the Color Guard for this happy occasion.

The Very Reverend Paul L. O'Connor, S.J., president of Xavier University, blessed the stadium, assisted by Frs. Andrew and Alan.



Suspense and mystery in an undertaking establishment was the setting for the three act comedy, Finders Creepers, staged by the R. B. Drama guild, December 2, 3, and 4. Miss Angeline Uhrig directed the play, and Fr. Ermin was its producer.

Roger Bacon and Our Lady of Angels High Schools again combined their talents in a three act comedy, April 20, 21, and 22. An appreciative audience enjoyed very much the Roaring Rectory, directed and produced by Miss Uhrig and Fr. Ermin.

FARMERS FORMAL

Approximately 110 seniors and their dates packed the Bacon cafeteria on the night of February 10 for the annual "Farmers Formal." In the middle photo Dianne Wolf, winner of the patching contest, works on Dave DeLaet's trousers.

Bottom: Jim Fisher and Eileen Dooley, King and Queen of the Barnyard, give regal smiles as Nancy Zurenko and Dick Theis show approval.

Winners of the various games and races at the Farmers Formal were assembled in a gigantic rope jumping contest. Right: Mary Royston and Bob Bachman run into a bit of trouble.

Left: Walt Roeckers, Dennis Hilvers and Joe Siegel introduce their dates to Fr. Andrew. The girls are: P. Browning, Mary Ann Gardner, and Mary Lynn Russell.

Mr. Johnson shows prom favors to Carol Angst, Frank Elsner, Pat Stahl, and Tom Brown.

The Senior-Junior Prom again proved a huge success when approximately 270 couples crowded Castle Farm Friday night, April 23.

Judy Even, Paul Wilmes, Toni Grant, and Ed Rakel.

Right: A special committee of juniors elected the prom personality winners. Assisting Fr. Antonine in the tabulation are T. Brown, K. Staub, T. Coombs, and R. Wess.

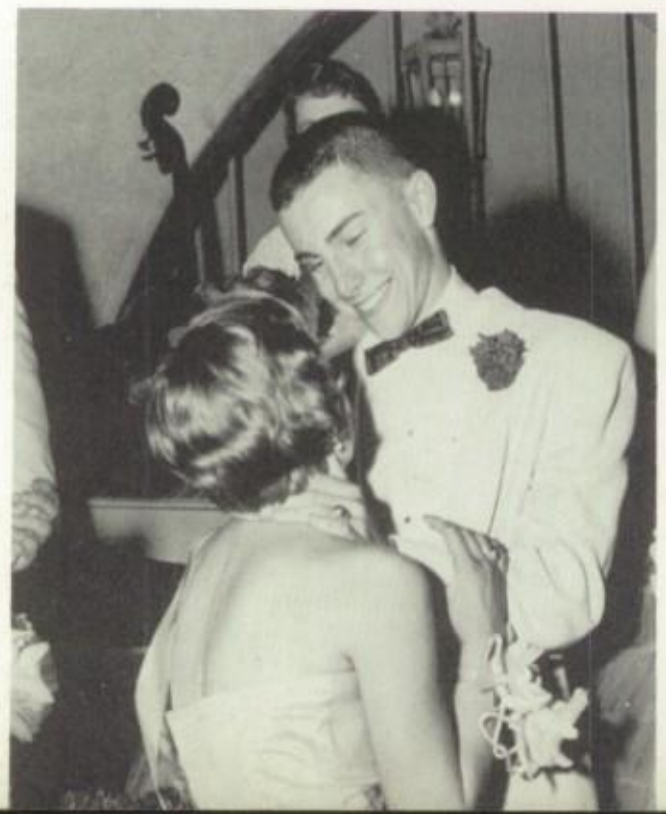
Winners in the Prom Poll were (left to right): Al Watzek and Peggy Stuart, Mr. and Miss Athlete; Paul Wilmes and Judy Evans, Mr. and Miss Best Dancer; Bob Isfort and Helena Schnittker; Frank Elsner and Carol Angst, Mr. and Miss Personality; Tom Hinssen and Lori Born, Mr. and Miss Best Dressed; Dick Theis and Nancy Zurenko, Mr. and Miss Success; Jim Fisher and Eileen Dooley, Mr. and Miss Popularity; Dave Cartuyvelles and Nancy Case, Mr. and Miss Rugged; Al Heimert and Mary Albers, Mr. and Miss Scholar.

The climax of the Prom arrived when Frank Elsner, King of the Prom, crowned his date, Carol Angst, Queen. Frank and Carol then led the traditional Grand March.



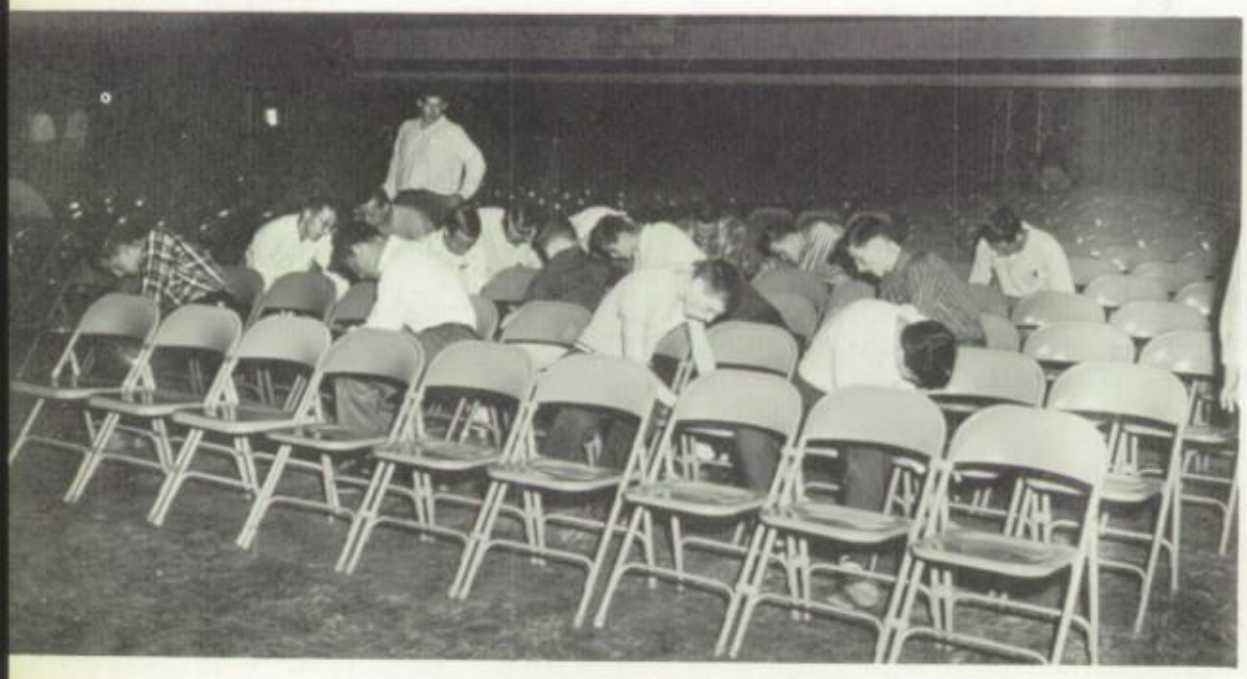
May 13 was the date for the annual Music and Art Festival. Pictured above are Fr. Cronan directing the band and Fr. Peter directing the Roger Bacon Glee Club. Right: Jacklyn Frank leads the O.L.A. chorus.

During the two intermissions in the musical program, art fanciers were invited to inspect the work of the Art classes and of the Camera Club.

Below: The combined Glee Clubs of Roger Bacon and Our Lady of Angels join voices in the beautiful "Shenandoah."

The annual Spelling Bee was held May 11. Pictured, right, are the winners of the four divisions: Peter Davis, George Puening, Dave Dolan, and Jim Dreyer. G. Puening downed the other contestants in the final round to become school champion.

The cameraman caught Bob Penick dozing one day, and snapped the following sequence. Note the gradual restoration of consciousness, and final "hamming" of the subject.



Prior to elections, May 9, the Brown Party and White Party Conventions were held on May 3 to elect candidates and establish platforms for the 1956-57 Student Union. Above, Freshmen are checked for registration to vote, as Joe Siegel and Tom Klus keep an eye on the ballot box.

Above: Posters and streamers invited the voters to consider White candidates for councillors.

Right: Secretary Ken Staub records proceedings as Fr. Faran, Brown Party Moderator, looks on. Below: Cafeteria walls were littered with slogans and the virtues of various candidates, the Brown Party hopefuls being the "good guys" in this section of the cafeteria.

Retiring School President Dick Theis flashes a broad grin and congratulates his smiling successor Ken Staub. Fr. Andrew joins Dick in wishing success to the newly elected President.

The Brown Party succeeded in getting eight adherents elected. Pictured below is the newly chosen Student Council:
Seated: R. Hungler, J. Falls, Pres. Ken Staub, J. Sicking, N. Ahr.
Standing: A. Comerata, R. Daumeyer, W. Combs, V. Pellman, W. Bronner.

Below: Ray Hentschel, Dave Sweeney and Bob Marconet.

The Better Speech Contest was held Sunday, March 26 in the Bacon auditorium. The contestants were: Seated: R. Wess, V. Pellman, R. Hungler, F. Elsner, J. Hoesl, J. Frey. Standing: T. Zink, R. Giglio, T. Louis, T. Filipp, P. Hoffman, R. Thome.

Winners of the Speech Contest: Front Row: R. Hungler, F. Elsner, J. Hoesl. Second Row: V. Pellman, R. Wess, J. Frey. Senior Frank Elsner was awarded the Rosmarin Trophy.

While the judges of the Speech Contest were making their decision, the Glee Club, under the direction of Fr. Peter, put on a melodrama entitled "The Tragedy of Mack Betts." Below are two scenes from this take-off on "Macbeth," a highly successful crowd-pleaser.
